

musiConnects

is pioneering a new model for public music education and performance that unites youth, families and musicians around the shared intention of building a strong, thriving community.

Our work is social change through chamber music. We have created permanent music education and performance residencies in Mattapan and Roslindale, where we work with youth from first grade until college.

Please join us for an afternoon of music and learn more about musiConnects.

The hurricane on August 28th caused us to reschedule this event.
